FOR PRESIDENT,

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT. CHESTER A. ARTHUR,

of New York,

FIGURES FROM SOUTH CAROLINA. According to the published census returns South Carolina has increased her population since 1870, 291,918, being an lucrease since 1870 of about 42 per cent.

In the same time, to correspond with the increase in population, there should have been an increase in the value of her real and personal property. Instead of this being so, if we may trust the official reports there has been a decrease in wealth almost as remarkable as the reported increase in population. From the auditor's report to the legislature, made in November, 1870, for the year 1860, we learn that there were returned for taxation 15,915,322 acres of land valued at $67,469,307; upon which there were 124,546 buildings, valued at $14,371,558; making the total value of real estate in 1869, not in incorporated cities and towns, to be $81,840,

The comptreller-general's report of 1880 covering the assessment of 1879, gives the same items as follows: Land, not in incorporated cities and towns, 16,625,170 neres, valued at $44,393,415; upon which there were 121,936 buildings, valued at $6,603,180; making a total value of real estate except that in cities and towns of $50,995,595,

These figures show a decrease in the value of land to the amount of $23,076,802; a decrease in the number of buildings of 2.610, and a decrease in their value of $7,768,378; being a total decrease in the value of all real estate, not in towns and cities, of $30,-845,970.

The taxable value of real estate in cities and towns has declined, according to the same reports, from $34,446,874 in 1869 to $25,588,271 in 1879; a debrease of 35,858,000, estate in ten years is, therefore, $40,703,873. It will be seen from these figures that the 990,824 inhabitants of 1879 live in 2,610 fewer houses than the 705,606 inhabitauts of 1869. The fact is also apparent that the said houses are worth $7,768,378 less than were the greater number returned in 1809. It is thus evident that while very great attention has been paid to the production of population there has been no time to build houses or keep them in repair. In the same time the taxable value of all personal property in the state is reduced from $63,106,720 in 1860 to $36,574,858 in 1879; a loss in ten years of $26,531,862,

Some of the losses in personal property may be noted in the following tables:

The bulk of the democratic members in every congress for the last ten years, including the present one, have been radically unsound on all financial and industrial questions, and the commercial and manufacturing interests of the country have everything to lose and nothing to gain by intrusting the mighty responsibility of managing the affairs of the nation to the hands of men committed to all sorts of crude and crochetty theories and wholly without training and experience. The motto for the times, for all business > men, is clearly, let well enough alone. In 1876 business interests were severely depressed, capital and labor were to a great extent unemployed and the republican party was held responsible. In 1880 business is brisk, capital and labor are actively employed, and as the republican party was held responsible for adversity, t should be credited with all it has done to produce prosperity. We are confident that the masses of the capitalists and laborers of the country will show by their votes in November that they are centent to let well enough alone. The indications point to a solid north-not for the sake o seing solid, but for the sake of being right The Public of New York, a journal supported by the business men of that city, 705 and 709 Market Space sys in its last issue:

The new political events are indicative of republican success in Connecticut and Intinua. And it is well to remember that, with all the southern states and New York and New Jersey, the democrats would fall short of electing their candidates. Their success in Maine, New Hampshire, Ohio or California is not thought at all probable by well-informed persons, and is certainly less probable than an success in West Virginia, Virginia

THE New York Herald of vesterday says: There are indications that the democrats ave practically abandoned the contest lifeine, and this state of things is attested by the withdrawal of men and money from the canvass there for more effective use in Indiana. Democratic speakers returning from Maine say without qualification that the fusion movement was a failure, and they have no hope of success. The contest will be continued simply by local speakers.

THE Canadian courts have decided that teleraph companies have no power to destroy or jure shade trees. The employes of the Dotinion Telegraph company have been fined for this offense. We wish such a decision could be obtained in this District. The nonchalance with which a working party outting up a new pole will back and ruin a valuable shade tree to make room for their own nuisance of a pole deserves to be met by a deught to begin at once,

DR. P. H. VANDER WEYDE has written for the Science american a paper on Dr. Tanner's fast, in which he draws from the doctor's sucessful method of recuperation the deduction that the customary treatment of persons who have been suffering from starvation to give them but small quantities of milk and brandy at long intervals is all wrong. It is a fact that many disunder this treatment after they mve been rescued. This has been azeribed to lisorganization incident to the long abstinence from food. It now appears more likely that it s the erroneous treatment, that in such cases there is no time to be lost, and the stomach should at once be filled with pure milk, fruit, meat and other kinds of wholesome food, when t will be able to resume its functions at once whatsoever, and is not even a tonic.

THE traffic returns of the Sucz canal for the even months ending July 1, 1880, we see it in 1878. The gross receipts for the present year as conservatively estimated will be $8,066,600. Deducting from this the expendi-TON to do now, and that is to settle down tures, $5,735,665, including $5 per share interest, we have $2,330,935, from which 5 per cent. must be deducted for the statutory reserve. namely, $11.546, leaving profits available for distribution to the amount of $9,214,389. The statutes of the Suez Canal company provide that all not carnings in excess of the 5 per follows: Fifteen per cent, to the Egyptian shares, 2 per cent, to form an invalid fund for the employes of the company, 71 per cent. as dividend on 400,000 shares and 2 per cent, to the managing directors. The distribution of the foregoing amount would therefore be : To the 400,000 shares, $1,572,216; to the Founders', $221,439; to the Egyptian government $332,158; to the invalid fund, $44,288; to the GRAND OPENING directors, $44,288; total, $2,214,389. This is a holds in the Suez canal. To persons interestfigures will be found interesting.

WITH marked good sense the Albany Eccuog Journal puts the following proposition: "The southern states owed $340,000,000 In 1872.
